Support Services & Peer Recovery

What is Peer Recovery?

The following Peer Recovery Support Services are provided by a Peer Recovery Specialist:

- Nonprofessional and nonclinical
- No fees are involved
- No time constraints
- Helping individuals and families achieve and/or sustain long-term recovery
- Support to people affected by others addiction/substance use disorders
- Provide links to professional treatment
- Assistance finding other community or professional support
- Mutual aid support
- Organizations including but not limited to 12 step recovery groups

Peer Recovery Specialist

A “Peer Recovery Specialist” is a person that is in recovery themselves. They have experienced the pain and suffering that substance abuse causes in one’s life. Through their own experiences, they understand the feelings, and life problems one may face while fighting drugs or alcohol. Through their own recovery, they have found ways to live again, to be happy, and to be productive members of society while remaining alcohol and drug free.

Days and Hours of Operation

Types of Peer Support

- Emotional Support
- Informational Support
- Educational Support
- Affiliational Support
- Instrumental Support
- Life Skills Training

Peer Recovery Support Services can be delivered anytime during the recovery process:

- Prior to treatment
- During formal treatment
- Post treatment
- In later recovery stages

Examples of peer recovery support services include:

- Peer mentoring or coaching—developing a one-on-one relationship in which a peer leader with recovery experience encourages, motivates, and supports a peer in recovery
- Peer recovery resource connecting—connecting the peer with professional and nonprofessional services and resources available in the community
- Recovery group facilitation—facilitating or leading recovery-oriented group activities, including support groups and educational activities
- Building community—helping peers make new friends and build healthy social networks through emotional, instrumental, informational, and affiliation types of peer support

Making a Difference

Since 1983, Great Lakes Recovery Centers has helped thousands of people begin their own path to recovery. On any given day, we assist hundreds of people in Michigan as well as other states as they move towards a brighter future. We strive to provide services to all who need them— regardless of an individual’s financial resources or life circumstances.
