Medical Services

At GLRC, our guiding core principle is “people are our purpose, love them all”. Seeing each client as the whole person they are, we now offer person-centered care for primary health in addition to our core of services for substance use disorders and behavioral health needs.

Primary health care for clients in mental health, behavioral health, and substance abuse treatment rounds out our offerings for client-centered, whole person care. Our integrated medical services now allow our clients to grow towards their optimal health of mind, body and spirit.

GLRC Medical Services are offered in a variety of locations throughout the Upper Peninsula. These programs are staffed by physicians, nurse practitioners, and physician assistants who can provide medication assisted treatment along with treatment for health conditions, preventative care, education on health topics, and minor office procedures.
